

Remote Learning Resources for Parents

Investnet Institute in Classrooms to Offer Critical Skills Education

At a time when parents are struggling to balance work, childcare and taking on homeschooling, we are thrilled to be able to offer the clients and families of our advisor customers access to a library of 20+ digital courses for students in grades K-12. These courses provide quality educational content on life's most critical topics, including financial education, mental wellness, prescription drug safety, compassion, digital wellness, and more.

Through a strategic partnership with EVERFI, Inc., a global social impact education innovator, Investnet Institute In Classrooms provides financial education to underserved communities across Philadelphia, Richmond, Seattle, and Chicago as part of our Investnet Cares community engagement efforts.

EVERFI traditionally implements these K-12 courses in a classroom setting, but in response to the extended shutdown of our nation's schools, we have partnered with them to provide the students in your family and your clients' families with direct access for a limited time.

Topics Covered

- Financial Education
- Mental Wellness
- Social Emotional Learning
- College and Career Readiness
- Early Literacy
- STEM
- And more!

Parents, to get started visit:

everfi.com/familyresources

Frequently Asked Questions

Who can use these digital lessons?

The K-12 Family Portal features a library of courses for students in kindergarten through twelfth grade. Though EVERFI's resources are typically leveraged in the classroom, EVERFI and our partners want to ensure that K-12 students also have access to these resources at home during these widespread school closures.

Can I share this resource my clients and their friends?

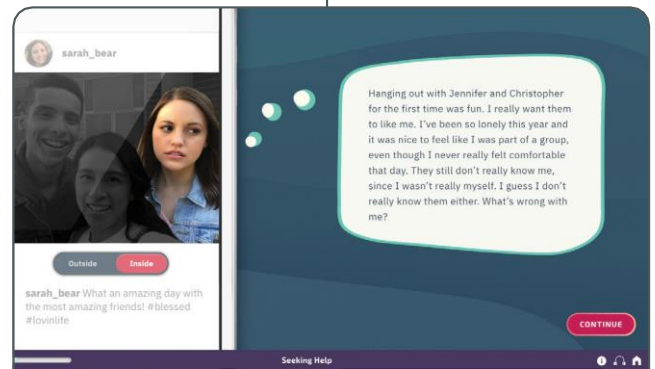

Yes, during this time of school closures across the US, the Family Portal is available to all. You are welcome to share this resource with clients, prospects, business partners, and the general public.

This library of 20+ courses is a lot. Where should I start?

We encourage you to start with the Envestnet sponsored courses, VAULT and MARKETPLACE. During this time of uncertainty, we also suggest courses that support students' emotional wellbeing. For elementary school students, we have the Compassion Project. For middle and high school students, we offer Mental Wellness Basics.

I can't find my child's school and am having difficulty accessing the lessons.

Please visit support.everfi.com or email remoteflearning@everfi.com to submit a help request. The EVERFI team will respond to these requests as quickly as possible.

everfi.com/familyresources

EVERFI is the leading education technology company that provides learners of all ages education for the real world, through innovative and scalable digital learning.

EVERFI